To Whom it May Concern,

I am writing to enthusiastically recommend Scott Wildey for employment as your graphic designer. I have had the opportunity to work alongside Scott for nearly 20 years as both co-worker, supervisor and friend. Scott is a valued team player who brings his best to all projects, while being a source of encouragement to everyone involved. I appreciate Scott's ability to bring creative and thoughtful artistry to his work, while understanding the real needs and deadlines necessary for each item.

Scott served as our lead graphic designer and we collaborated on numerous large and small projects throughout our years working together. From promotional materials to support large scale events, training materials to equip teams, creating and implementing style guides and launching numerous brand identities, Scott is able to create unique and creative collateral that never failed to support our different efforts. He is able to turn projects around quickly and efficiently. He also receives feedback well to ensure the best result possible. Lastly, Scott knows how to maintain excellence and consistency across all mediums to maintain an effective brand strategy.

I believe Scott is a gifted creative with a unique ability to bring ideas and concepts to life visually. He can be trusted to hit the ground running and will bring great value to your company. Feel free to contact me with any further questions.

Sincerely,
